Foreword

If Thomas Payne were alive today he would say again, "These are the times that try men's souls."

The truth of this statement can readily be found in almost every newspaper and magazine published in the world today. The present national and international strife exemplifies the desires and conflicts of a seriously divided people. The present belongs to those who govern, but, in truth, tomorrow must belong to us, the young.

Perhaps, some of us from Falls Church High will one day be in a position to alleviate some of the present problems. Our one weapon for this monumental task can only be . . . the power of knowledge. Our factories for the production of this . . . our schools.

Today we leave Falls Church High, some to fill their needed positions in the world, others to change and improve the conditions under which the remainder must live.

In the meantime, here is the JAGUAR's offering to the future . . . a record of our past.

The ancestor of Falls Church High School.

They are followed by the priests of the old religions who were the teachers of their time, and the early astronomers and scientists who began the scientific knowledge of the world. As the procession reaches the Middle Ages, the light dims to a faint glow and only a few men pass by, the monks who, hidden away in their monasteries, kept knowledge alive in this age of darkness. The lights begin to grow again, as the Dark Ages pass from view and learning comes to life again. The pro-

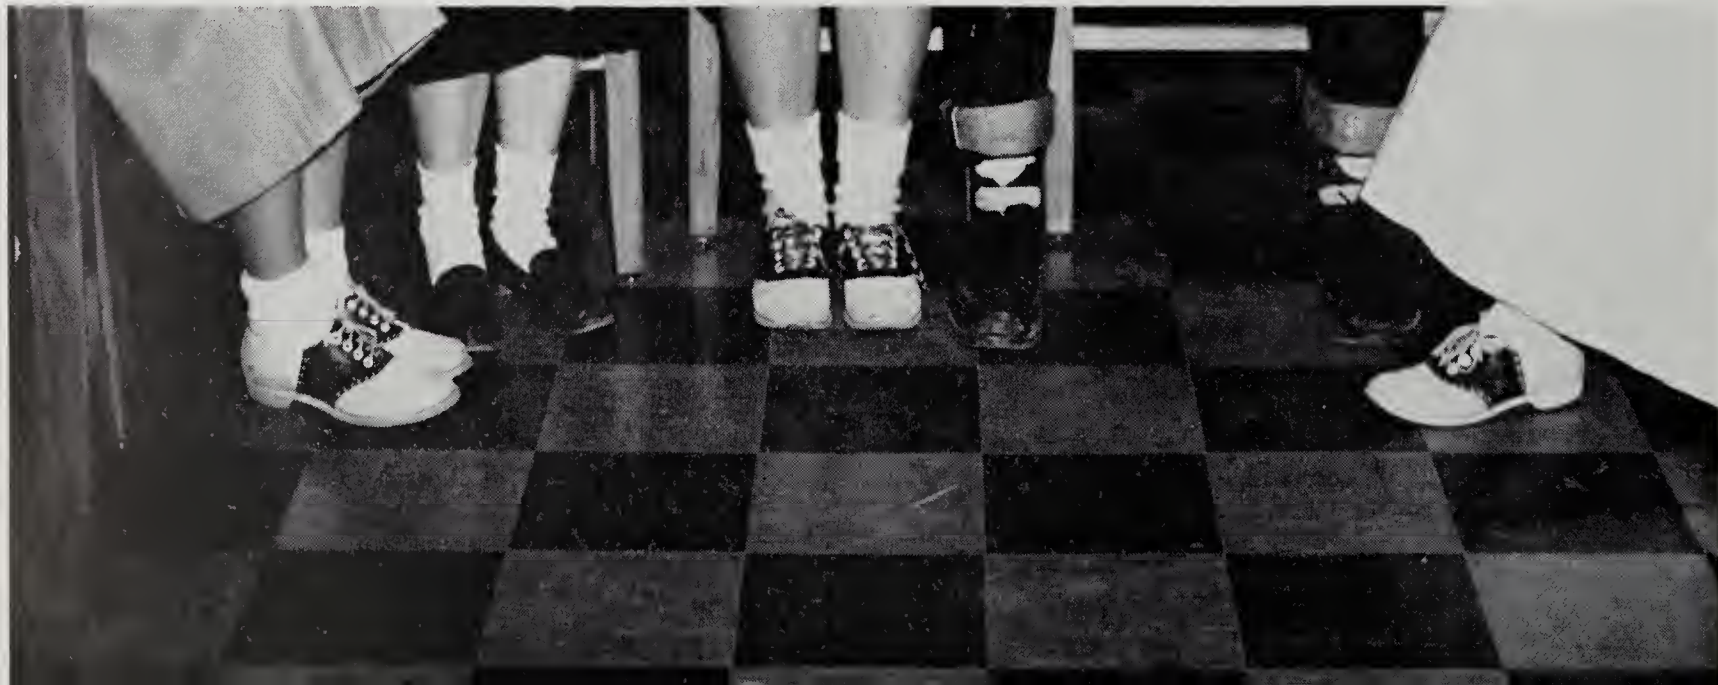

Our Alma Mater.

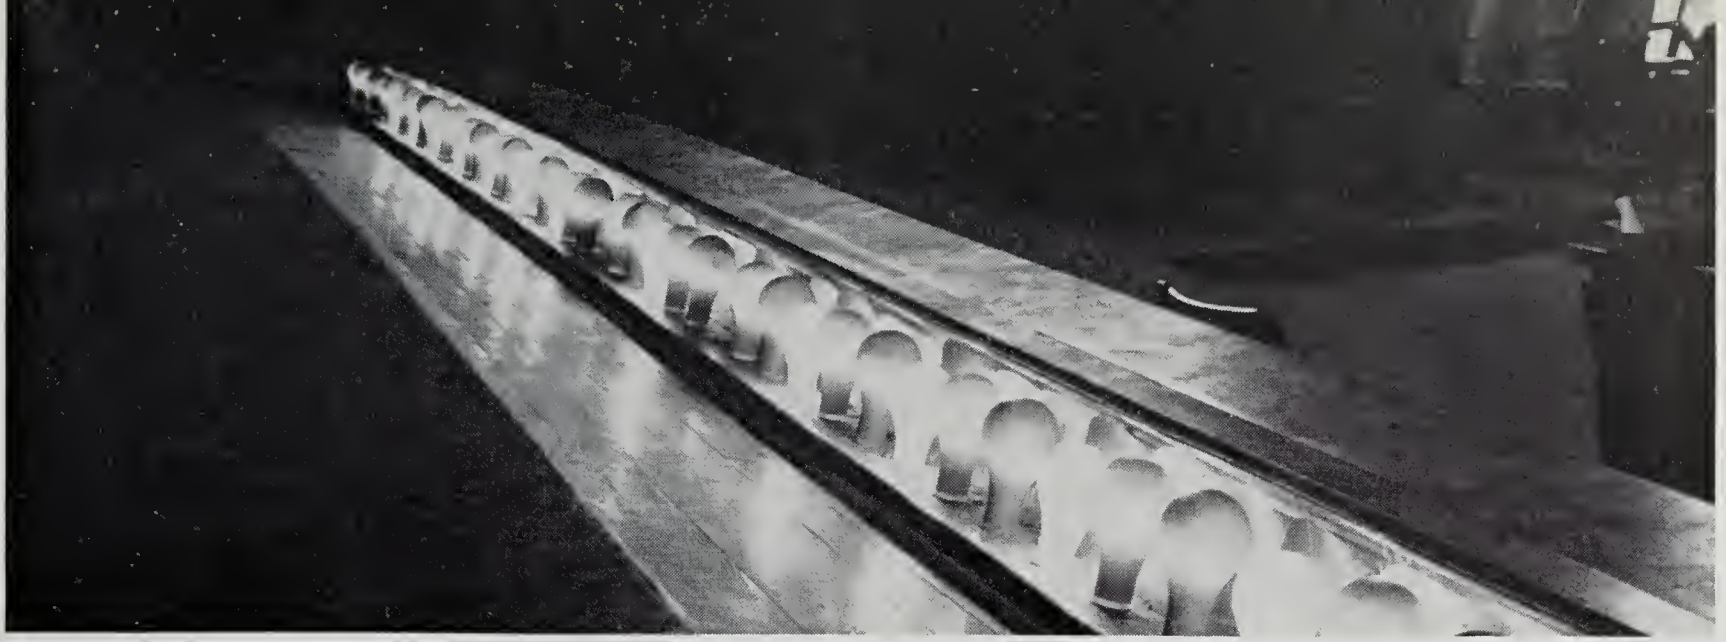

Over the horizon comes a light — a faint glow which grows and grows, illuminating everything in its path. Through the light come shadows of men, walking in a solemn procession along a trail of learning which begins with time and stretches to infinity. First is primitive man, for with him began knowledge, and with his children began education. Next are the Egyptians and the Romans, who are followed by Socrates, walking at a dignified pace along the path, accompanied by Plato, famous for his great dialogues, and by Aristotle. With them are their students, who went on to increase the knowledge of the world.

ession is long; many great people pass by; people who have preserved the knowledge of the world. They are great teachers and thinkers and orators, great men of science and letters. In the growing light come the figures of Rousseau and Pestalozzi and Froebel who were the first of the great educators to believe that students should be taught by understanding and not by punishment. After these men come Thorndike, who developed much of the modern education system, and the men who have worked and studied to develop our present school system, Alcott, Mann and Dewey.

Into the glare of the now-brilliant light come the administrators and teachers of the modern schools, who are perhaps some of the most important of all, for they are training the youth in an age when ignorance is death, and knowledge is imperative in the fight to rescue man from his failure to understand man in an age of all destructive weapons.

Falls Church High School, like many schools in the world today, represents the effort that is being made to hold high the light of learning, the torch of liberty.

Principal

GENERAL WILLIAM S. RUMBOUGH

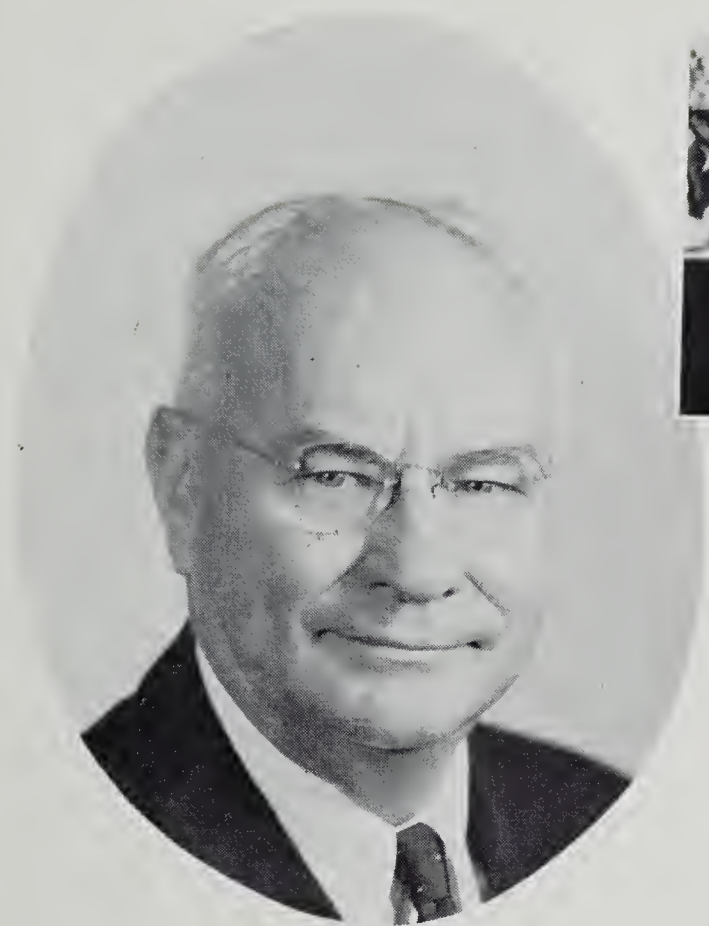

Farewell

We, the students of Falls Church High School, wish to express our deep and sincere gratitude to you, General Rumbough, for your help and guidance, your fairness and trust, your ability and perseverance.

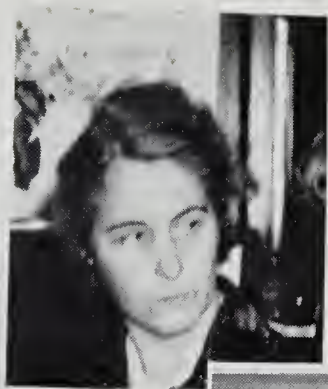

You have served us well, and your departure will be deeply felt. Few there are who would give so unceasingly of their time and energies as you have.

So now it is time to say farewell . . . but we must say one thing more with the deepest sincerity, THANK YOU, GENERAL, FOR ALL YOU HAVE GIVEN, AND BEST WISHES IN YOUR NEW UNDERTAKING.

MR. BARRETT

The job of our assistant principal is neither an easy nor a pleasant one. It entails, as we all know, the disciplinary actions of the school.

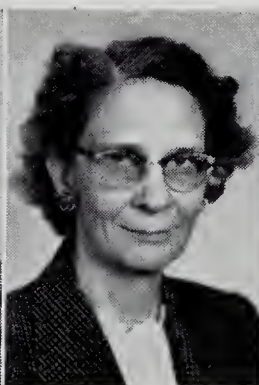

An important factor in life is the learning of self-discipline and control. For the past four years Mr. Barrett has aided and guided us as he has so many others in previous years. We realize the value of his help and are duly grateful.

His genuine interest and deep concern for our welfare will remain in our memories of Falls Church High School.

Again this year, as in past years, our guidance department has upheld its high standards and has continued to influence students in the important choice of their subject matter. This huge job has been carried on by our full-time director, Mrs. Anne Rullman, by the eighth grade director, Miss Scott, and by the several other counselors who have devoted much of their time and effort to advising the students of the school.

To the people who have helped us so much in the past five years, it is difficult to express in adequate terms the appreciation which we feel. Perhaps our appreciation is sometimes hidden under a cover of indifference or roughness but, certainly, the feeling is still there. So, with all the inadequacies of youth, we can only say . . . Thank you.

With the completion of Falls Church High recently, came the addition of a brand new "bigger and better" library. Under the capable auspices of Mrs. Jackson, our librarian, the library more than adequately serves the school in almost every respect.

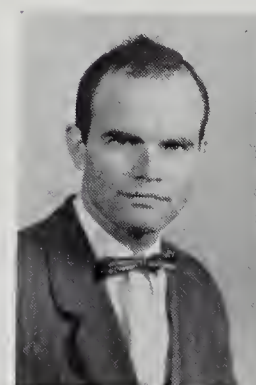

The office occupied by Mrs. Rigdon belongs to our visiting teacher who is a wonderful friend and inspiration to all who know her.

Senior Class History

When we seniors entered the eighth grade here at Falls Church, our school was not the plant it is today. We saw the addition of our library and cafeteria during our eighth and ninth grades, and we elected class officers and sponsored dances for the first time. When we were freshmen we held the Dixie Drag, which boasted an outstanding band. In our Sophomore year the "Paw Print" had its start and since then has won an achievement rating as a good creative magazine. Our junior year was really a big one for us. We gave the Night Club Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom. After Class Night we became the Mighty Seniors and our busiest year began. By this time our building had expanded again and we had a good gymnasium and auditorium. For four years the school had been holding magazine drives in order to erect some lights on our field. Before we graduated we were to see many exciting night-time football games. We have also seen the extinction of the merit hall and the beginning of an Honor System, which we hope will never have to be replaced.

We came into a small school: we leave one of the county's largest and most complete. But growth has not stopped. New land has been acquired for playing areas of the future. This is the tradition we leave — growth, expansion, and development of character.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Class History

Four years ago, the members of this Junior Class were the last eighth graders to attend classes in the old Thompson House. Since then the progress in school events, curriculum and policies has been aided and greatly supplemented by the willing and eager spirit of these Juniors.

The financial goal of the Junior Class this year has been the Junior-Senior Prom. After a great deal of well-spent time and effort, the Juniors gave the Seniors a beautiful Prom, this year held in the Presidential Room of the Statler Hotel.

Both the Record Hops and the Night Club Dance were products of the hardworking Juniors. Juniors held several main parts in the musical, Carousel. The class was also well represented in sports, debate, forensics and drama.

John Bowers, president, and his capable corps of officers have made an eventful year which will not soon be forgotten.

Class History

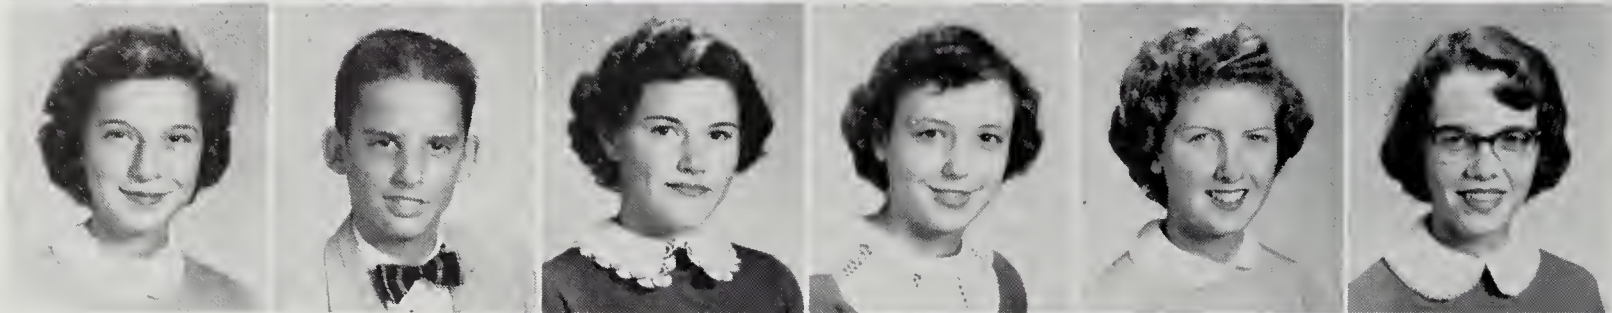

The Sophomore Class of F.C.H.S. has this year been an integral part of the school's activities. At the beginning of the year the class participated in the Variety Show sponsored by the Art Club, and in February came the Key Club Show in which Sophs played the leading roles. Throughout the year, many a Sophomore boy has distinguished himself in the field of sports, at the same time bettering his school. The year progressed and in March the always popular Soc Hop was held, supplementing the class treasury. This was followed by the successful Tropicana dance, jointly held with the Freshman Class.

With all these activities, the Sophs still had time to run a class dues drive which was a smashing success. The climax to an exciting year culminated in the always-thrilling race for class officers.

The Freshmen Class officers working very hard together with their class have put over two successful dances, one of which was the Rhythm & Blues Hop with Jay Perry emceeing.

The class has had two assemblies and three class meetings. They're really on their way to giving a successful prom and a tip-top Senior year.

The S. G. A.

The S. G. A., now called the Student Government under the revised Constitution, has been ably led by Pat Howard, and its sponsors, Mr. Barrett and Miss Green. It is the largest working organization in the school. Its members consist of homeroom representatives, all class officers, senators, and official committee members from the Yearbook, Jaguar Journal, etc.

This year the Student Government has worked hard on revising the old constitution. Changes include higher standards for officers, and cheerleaders, the omission of the marshall system, two extra members on the cheerleading squads, and the change of the organization's name.

The Sweetheart Dance was sponsored by our Student Government and curtains for the auditorium were obtained with much help from this hardworking group. They have raised money for the gift which will be presented to the school in June. The school and students owe much to the drive of our student government.

Cast Play

partment's last play, "The Glass Menagerie," will be presented in the auditorium.

This play will be the first play contest in the school's history.

Heather Hanley plays the part of Laura, Amanda's daughter who is a shy girl, merely living in her own illusions.

Tom, Amanda's son, is a high tempered, dissatisfied warehouse worker played by Jay Jarrett.

Jim Butler plays the gentleman caller. He is a school friend of Tom's who comes to visit Laura.

This play, by Tennessee Williams, had a long run on Broadway and a movie was made of it.

One takes place in an alley in St. Louis and in the home of Tom and Amanda Wingfield.

The Jaguar football team, 1955 edition, although plagued by inexperience in both the line and back-field, came through with an acceptable 5—4—1 record, the best Group 1 record in Fairfax County, and good enough for a tie for the county championship. Of the four losses, three came by only one touchdown.

Opening the season, the Jaguars were beaten 6-0 in a contest that featured the Jaguars' inability to provide an offense. Following this, their spirit swelled and with it the record. Annandale, McLean, and Mt. Vernon fell before them in games which proved the ability of the team. The Jaguars then played Wakefield, the highly favored Warriors finally outscored the Jaguars in a wild game, featuring many fine runs by Jaguar backs. The test of the season consisted of playing up and down ball. However, the overconfident Culpeper Blue Devils, a team composed of the largest line in the state was beaten 13-0, in what most people felt was the Jaguars' best team effort. The Jaguars also mauled the favored Loudon County by the lopsided score of 30-6. The season ended on a cold Thanksgiving morning with George Mason managing to tie us. The game included field goals and blocked punts and the winning F. C. extra point being called back.

The outstanding backs for Falls Church were: Halfback Jim McIntire; three-letter man and captain of the team; Quarterback Sam Yancy; and Fullback Charlie Mullen.

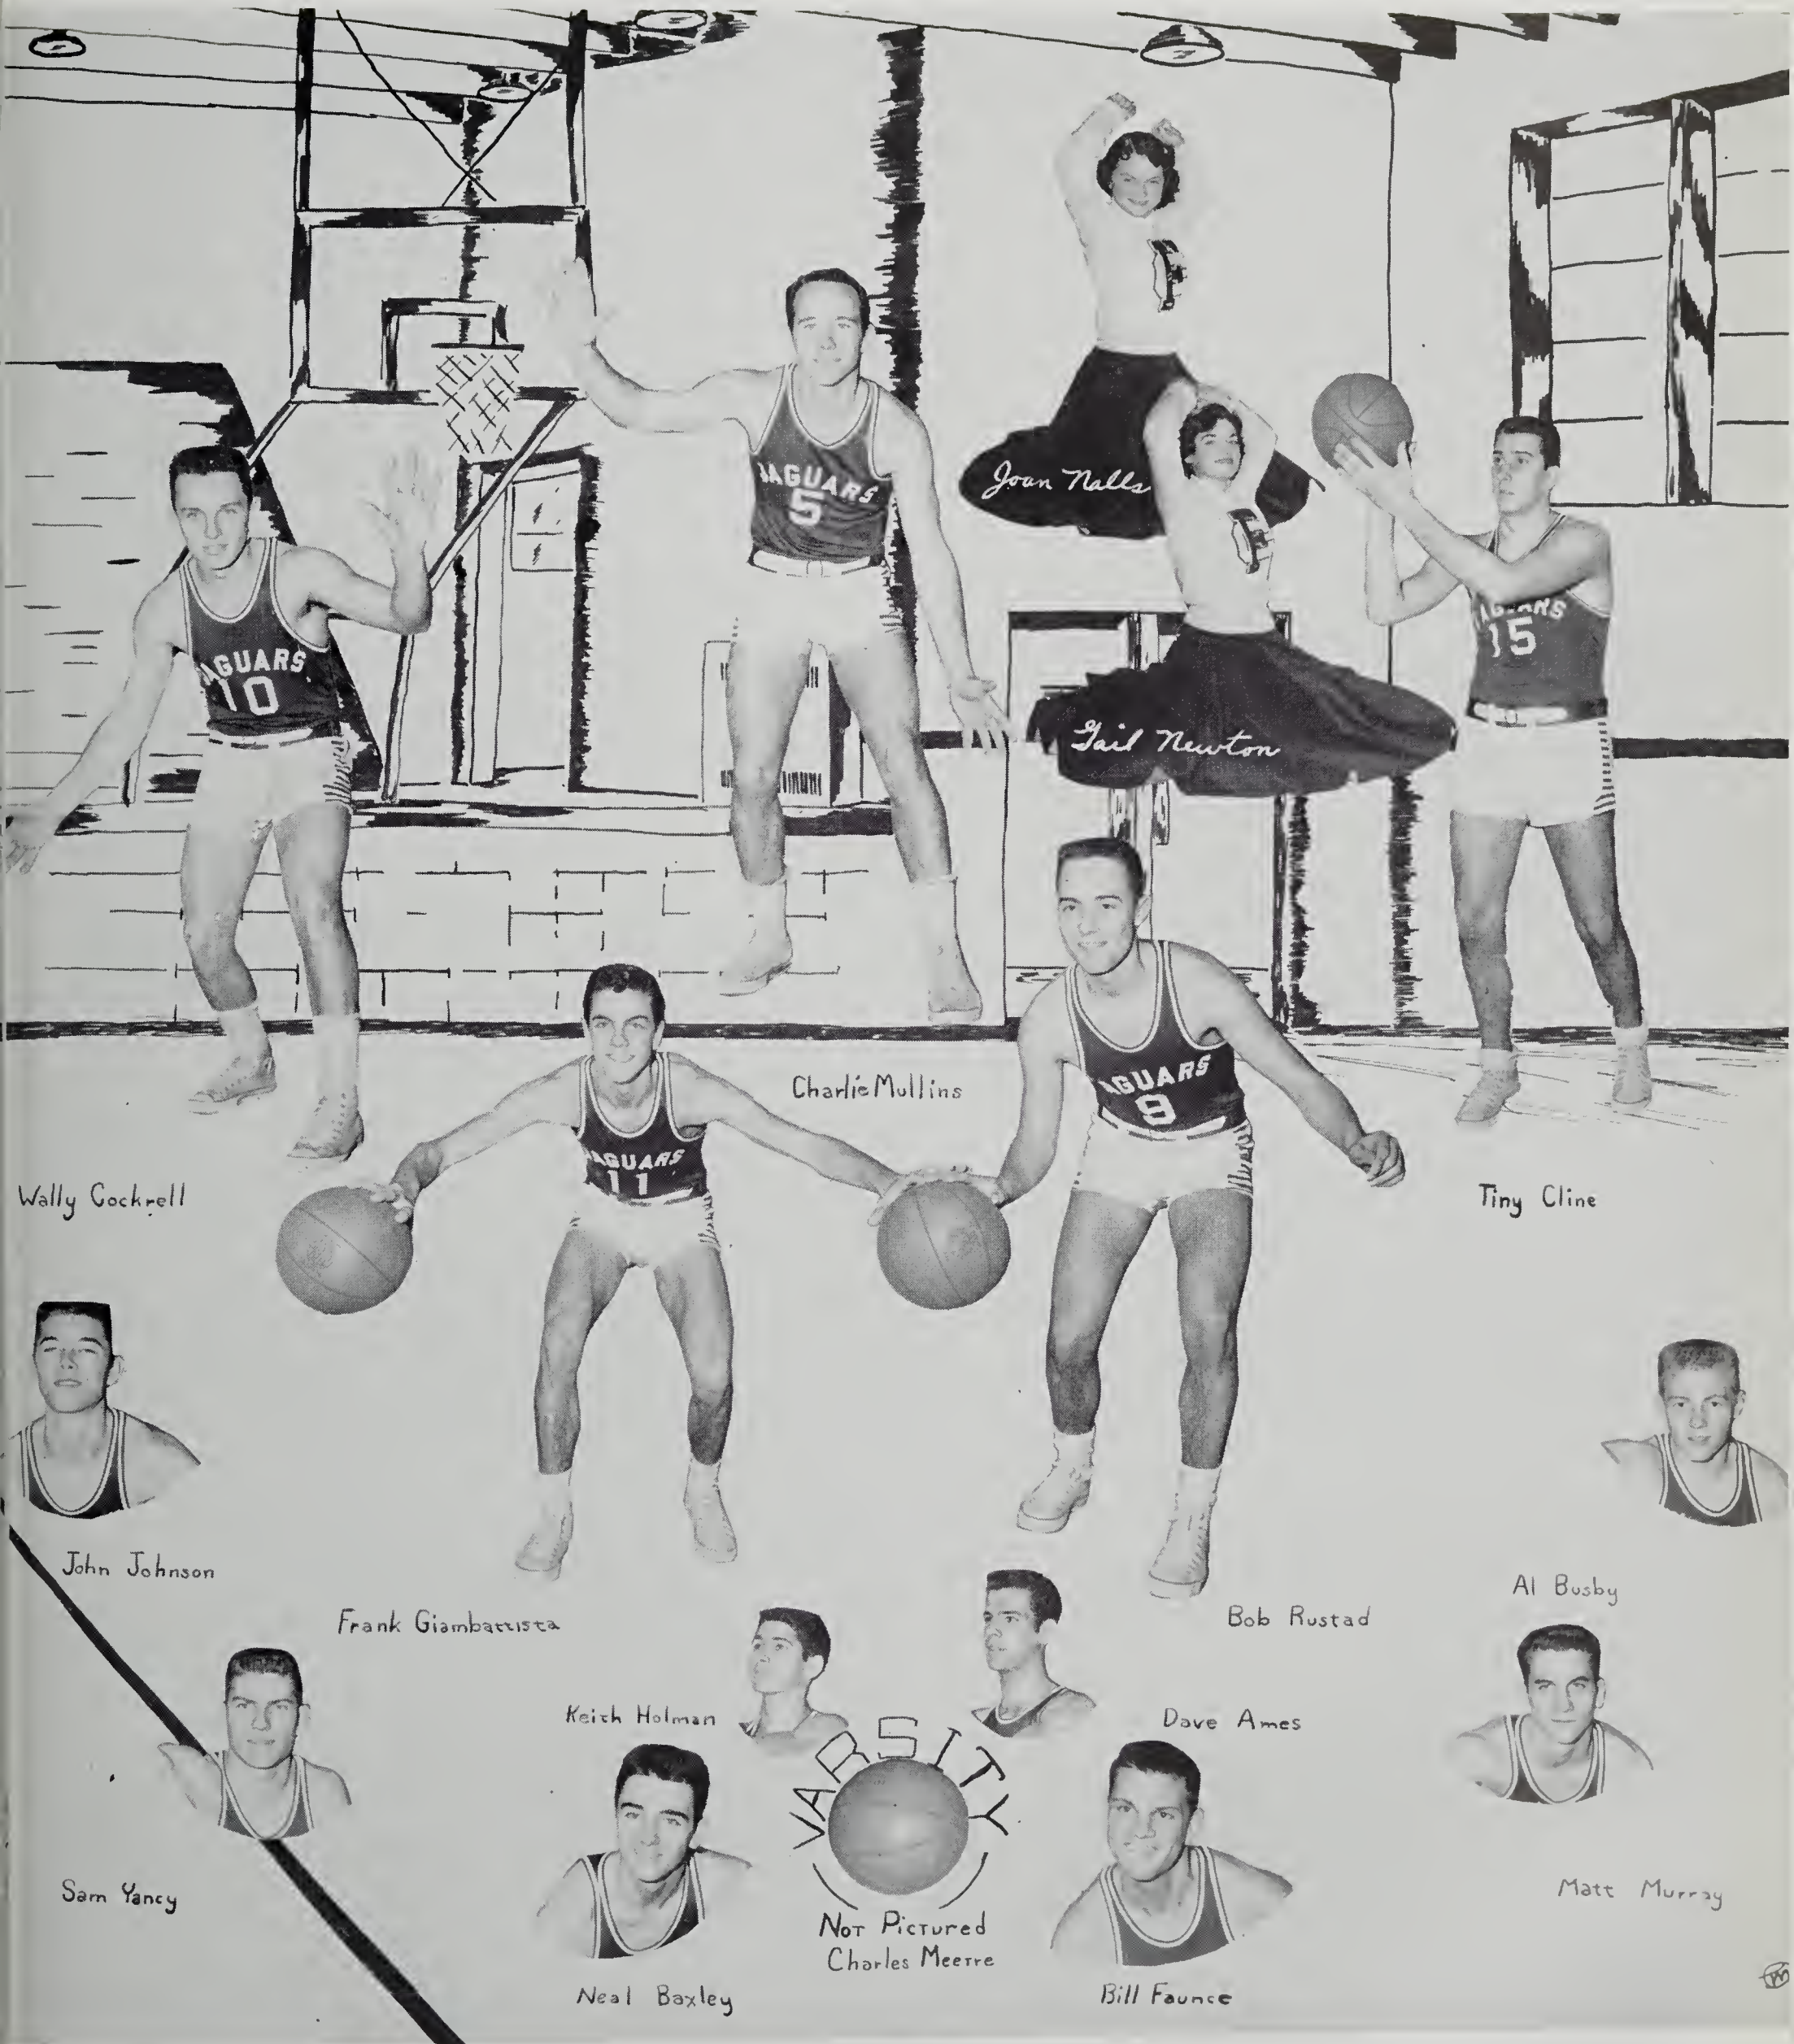

Outstanding linemen were Ends Jake Frye and Albert Johnson; Tackles John Davenport and Barkley Greenwood; Guards John Girven and on the all-state team Jack Zelaska, three-letter man and Co-Captain of the team. Outstanding in various positions was Dean Vogel. Many of the above were honored with positions on the all Northern Virginia team.

Boys' Basketball

Showing great promise early in the season, the Jaguars failed to live up to the predictions made. Although there was outstanding team play by Wally Cockrell, Tiny Cline, and Bob Rustad, they could not get the Jaguars back in the winning column. Charlie Meetre's excellent ball handling ability, along with husky Sam Yancy and Charlie Mullen's good steady playing filled the guard positions nicely. The Jaguars' Frank Giambattista led the team in points scored and in shooting. A bright spot in the season was the late win over Fairfax. The record stood at 6 wins-11 losses.

Varsity Baseball

Our baseball team compiled a fair record over the course of the season. Sparked by veterans Cockrell, Zelaska, Brown, Deits, and Frye, the Jaguars' nine showed the opposition an impressive outfield, and a fair infield. In the pitching, the back bone of any high school team, the Jaguars lacked strength; surprising assistance came from freshman Buzzy Stone, who should develop into quite a player.

The team looked good in defeating George Washington, 8-1, and showed improvement toward the end of the season.

The annual homecoming game, played this year with the new McLean High School, raised the spirits of all as a victory for the purring Jaguars.

The impressive half-time ceremonics, complete with the parade of cars carrying our lovely queen and her court, was highlighted by the awarding of the golden football to Queen Pat Howard. Everyone was delighted to see the Homecoming Queen of 1955, Miss Ann Yeatman, returning to crown our own Pat Howard. The attractively attired young ladies of the court and the queen herself contributed to the general effect, making it one of much beauty and long to be remembered by all who attended.

Sweetheart Dance

The Sweetheart Dance of 1956 was this year more impressive than ever before. Held in the attractively decorated gymnasium on February 18, 1956, it was a high point of the year.

The queen's attractive attendants were introduced and as each one walked across the court, she was followed by a baby spotlight to her seat. As the queen approached her throne, she was accompanied by the melodious tones of Miss Letty Mason singing "Sweetheart." Following tradition, Joan Loew, queen of 1955, returned to her Alma Mater to crown the charming queen of 1956, Miss Jill Dalness.

Descending from her velvet throne, Jill, followed by her attendants, began the traditional court dance, a waltz sung, again by Letty, to the tune of "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody."

Seated on floor: PAT HOWARD, ANN CHASE, JILL DALNESS.

RAYE WHEELER, Queen

Standing: JOYCE RIEDESEL, MICHELLE MOONEY, EDDIE CLEEK, ANN PECKINPAUGH, BARBARA CARY, DONNA WHITELEY, MARY WILLIS, RAYE CONEIN.

Prom Court

The realization of every senior's dream came true on the night of June 8, 1956, when the annual Junior-Senior Prom was held in the luxurious Presidential ballroom of the Statler Hotel.

An atmosphere of formal excitement pervaded the room, with every factor contributing to make this event one to remember—the people, the band, the refreshments!

Highlighting the affair was the crowning of the striking brunette Prom Queen, Miss Raye Wheeler, by the attractive brownette queen of 1954, Miss Sondra Villella. As the court ascended to the throne, viewers could see in graceful array some of Falls Church High School's most beautiful girls! A rich memory for every senior.

These happy people, pictured above, represent the more refined set of our Senior Class. It seems that they were elected to portray the characters in "Lil Abner" at the annual Sadie Hawkins dance.

Complete with expensive clothes and tasteful make-up they put on a show that was more than satisfactory.

The Two Tramps

This unique twosome consists of Barbara Keesee and Judy Schierlmann. They first got together two years ago for the "20th Century Sings." Since then, they have been entertaining at dances, hospital shows, civic functions, and various school assemblies and activities. We are sure that those who have seen them will not soon forget the crazy antics of these gals.

The Downbeats

Several years ago, a group of musically talented boys from Falls Church formed the "Downbeats." This orchestra, which today has members coming from other schools in the area as well, plays for most of our school dances. The musicians from our school include Paul Rinaldi with his hot trumpet, Karl Anderson with his cool saxophone, Tom Moutoux with his loud piano, John Lane with his bouncing bass, and Dave Ames with his soft trombone. These boys played for our Homecoming, Christmas, Sweetheart, and Night Club dances, the Twin Spin, and the Key Club variety show.

Marching Band

Here is the band which has provided the music for much of the school life. This year the band played for the varsity football games bolstering the school immensely. Then they began their concert season in time to give a Christmas concert, a spring concert and go to the District Festival. Our band got a rating of excellent.

After the District Festival, the band turned to marching. They marched in the Apple Blossom Parade, the Falls Church Firemen's Parade, and the Little League Baseball Parade. The season was wound up by the playing of a small concert at the graduation of the senior class.

The band deserves high praise, for a great deal of effort and time goes into their music, and the results are worthwhile.

T. SHANDY HOLLAND

The Drama Department

The drama department, with the help and guidance of Mr. Shandy Holland, has succeeded in introducing into our lives a sample of this great art. The diligent work and the talent displayed by the actors and actresses have given us many delightful and exciting moments.

Talent is an important factor for success, of course. However, hard work and interpretation make for a successful production.

In the words of William Shakespeare, "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players."

Carousel

"Carousel," the third musical given at Falls Church High by the Drama and Music departments, is the story of Billy Bigelow, played by John Bowers, and of Julie Jordan, played by Julie Cheek and Letty Mason on alternate nights. Billy and Julie fall in love and marry even though it cost them their jobs. When Billy finds out that he is going to be a father, he tries to get some money by robbing a mill owner, but the attempt is unsuccessful and Billy commits suicide. Fifteen years later he returns to earth because his daughter needs him, and satisfied that he has at last been of some help to his family, he returns to heaven.

National Honor Society

Since 1946 the Elizabeth Ann Clem Chapter of the National Honor Society has existed here at Falls Church. Through the years, students with outstanding character, leadership, service, and scholarship, have been admitted into its realm. This year the society consists of forty-seven members who come from the junior and senior classes. Under the guidance of its beloved sponsor, Mrs. Mabel V. Chapman, and the hard-working officers, the members of the society have worked hard on its annual dance, its formal fall and spring inductions, college day, and the Easter Seal drive. This year, as it has in the past, the National Honor Society has done fine work for our school and community.

This School of Ours

It all begins at eight-thirty. They come, some sleepily, some exuberantly, and they all make noise.

The cleats on shoes tap the stone stairs. Someone opens a locker carefully, another slams his mightily. An "Oh, no" comes from a group of girls who are discussing another group of girls. A boy whistles at some girl; she giggles. Someone drops a whole stack of books. "Hi" yells Miss Personality Plus.

"Oh drat, the bell."

Someone from public speaking class comes over the P. A. system and tells something vague about the eighth grade football team. The students do learn this, that only eighth-graders will be excused to attend.

A laugh, a groan, and a wise-crack follows. Class is underway. Now and then the teachers' voices can be heard, teaching, commanding, asking.

The lunch period begins. Hungry teenagers "beat it" to the cafeteria. Brown bags, lunch boxes, wallets with lunch money, students fumble with these as they hurry to eat. Spoons hit the floor, someone knocks over a chair. Noise and confusion plus laughter is everywhere. In the kitchen white clad women are fixing salads; the custodian rolls away a big trash can.

When everyone is full, or the money gives out, the students leave for lockers, library, main hall. The main hall is the social center. A record-player blasts "Mary Lee", and the two girls who are the main attraction at the time do the Washington-Lee swing. Little groups of students talk, gossip, just "hanging around" until the next bell rings. . . . There they go again, twice more. The noise and confusion of eating, gossiping — the cafeteria is a busy place and teenagers love to eat, and eat, and eat . . .

By the time everyone has finally settled down to work again, it is 3:20, and there is a mad rush now. For some it seems like a matter of life or death, this race for busses, rides, books, committee meetings, cheerleading practice. The yellow busses come and go carrying pupils back and forth to various destinations.

In the building, custodians are cleaning dusty floors, sweeping up bobby pins and gum wrappers. It begins to get quiet. The committees have left. Now and then one hears the clicking of a lone typewriter, or of a teacher descending the steps wearily.

At 5:00 the school seems to go to sleep, but it is only resting. The evening brings more — activities everywhere, crews bang on sets in the auditorium, actors rehearse lines, basketball practice is in the gym, meetings are in the library, debaters fervently tear their hair over details of "Resolved"; the phone rings in the office and someone's mother wants him. Out on the field the new lights reign over the ball games, the crowds cheer, and everyone is proud — proud of the lights bought with the students' sweat, proud to be a part of Falls Church High School.

Farewell

Through the lightly and dimly lit halls of Falls Church High we have passed — treading the more silent ways — the more frolicsome ways. As we pass we bid farewell to a routine, but gather from our experiences knowledge to apply to our own future. We say our good-byes to those who gave us the incentive to depart from ignorance and naivete in order to strive in the direction of the new — of the unaccomplished, and give our hellos to a world made better, we hope, by our having been in it.

This book then, our life, derived from a collection of cross-sections of learning, is our life in an institution dedicated to learning — to growth — to nourishing the dream — this is Falls Church High School as seen by you through the eyes of us on the Jaguar Staff, and from this same staff, this is our farewell — a farewell tinged with regret at leaving this, a second home, and a farewell full of hope for success, and for peace in the future.
